

After Death: Healthcare Provider Duties

Practical tasks that may be performed by a healthcare provider after a person has died include:

- 1. Completing legal requirements
- 2. Contacting the funeral director
- 3. Offering to contact a minister of religion or funeral celebrant
- 4. Contacting the community nursing team
- 5. Communicating the death to relevant healthcare providers or health services.