Reverse PEPA (Aboriginal health service) Overview
Reverse PEPA placements offer the opportunity to integrate learning in the workplace, establish networks of support and educate health care staff about the palliative approach to care. The reverse PEPA learning experience will help the workplace: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • gain a clearer understanding of the principles of good palliative care • identify the needs of your clients/residents with life-limiting conditions • understand the role of your discipline in managing common problems faced by people with life-limiting conditions • recognise your own knowledge base/scope of practice in regard to optimal palliative care provision • identify personal coping strategies for effective management of personal issues related to working in this area. Reverse PEPA placements involve a palliative care staff member spending up to four days at an Aboriginal health service. Placements can involve the palliative care staff member providing palliative care education sessions, mentoring, assessments and interventions (medical, physical, psychosocial, spiritual etc), medication reviews, procedures & policy documentation, referral processes etc. The Aboriginal health service staff will also share information and knowledge. Once a PEPA application is received the PEPA manager will then liaise with the applicant and local Aboriginal health service to confirm the learning goals of the placement and suitable dates. Placements may be conducted over consecutive days or spread over several weeks.
